

Madhavi devi dasi is a first-year professor of education in America. She met H. H. Radhanatha Maharaja in Sri Mayapur dham and then came to America to take shelter at Maharaja's lotus feet 18 months after their first meeting. Though she had never cooked before she left Taiwan, she not only enjoys cooking for her friends and Maharaja but also making cookies for her students now. Madhavi d.d. also likes to travel; her recipes are from various parts of the world where she has visited. She is grateful to those who taught her how to cook, especially her father and mother, and Judith Mulholland, who introduced her to Krishna Consciousness.

